

Erica Meraz
listens with her eyes to the language of gestures of the Marseille tarot. The silence of these gestures gives voice to the limbs as letters, black presences that shape the white void.
Elbows, shoulders, hands stutter to echo the flutter of a bird, expanding the meaning of their hidden identities.
